Introduction..... 3

Funding and Scholarships..... 4 – 22

Introduction:

Welcome to this month's Research Funding Bulletin for CEMS:

OGSR believes that funding is the central vein that drives productivity, influence the volume of workload and research activities. Hence the recent request for the university's subscription to Research Professional Database, in which criteria can be set for more discipline/ subject specific funding, from all over the world.

Research Africa Professional Database offers UNISA and its scholars the following:

- The latest research funding.
- Student exchange opportunities.

Many of the funding calls will require data management, equality, and impact statements. Our team of NRF rated experts are ready to guide you through the process prior to submission.

Support to access Research Funding Database is available through the office of

- Ms Pumeza Saliwe saliwp@unisa.ac.za
- Telephone number: 012 429 4076

Looking forward to your applications!

Unlock Funding for Digital Supply Chain Innovation

Bookmark Email  ▼

Innovate UK, GB

The Made Smarter Innovation Digital Supply Chain Hub seeks companies interested in developing and deploying digital technology in their testbeds. For this innovation competition, the Digital Supply Chain Hub is seeking companies that are interested in developing and deploying digital technology solutions in the DSCH testbeds.

The Digital Supply Chain Testbeds were commissioned to provide multi-tier supply chain environments in which innovative digital solutions can be developed, tested and demonstrated. A key aspect is allowing the demonstration of value, with the ambition of driving adoption of digital solutions.

Together with the testbed companies, we have identified seven potential challenge areas. Each challenge comes with £100,000 available for a tech solution provider to work with an Industry Challenge Sponsor to address critical supply-chain challenges; and develop a solution which will be deployed into one of the testbeds. The potential challenge areas are:

1. Standardised Naming System for Automotive Spare Parts
2. Project Finance & Market Modelling in the Emerging Hydrogen Supply Chain
3. Digital Product Passport for the Textile Supply Chain

African Women's Development Fund, GH

The African Women's Development Fund invites applications for its solidarity fund grants. These enable African women to participate in exchange visits, conferences, seminars and workshops in order to network and share information, and thereby help strengthen the African women's movement. The fund may also respond to emergency issues such as women in conflict situations or those affected by disasters and famine. The key thematic areas are as follows:

- women's human rights;
- political participation;
- peace building;
- health, reproductive rights and HIV/AIDS;
- economic empowerment.

Funding is available to individual women attending events who belong to an African women's organisation or group as well as local, national, sub-regional or regional African women's organisations from any part of Africa, and organisations in areas affected by famine, conflict or disasters.

Grants are worth between USD 1,000 and USD 2,500 each.

Africa's business heroes prize

Bookmark Email Actions ▾

Jack Ma Foundation, CN

ABH aims to identify, support, and inspire the next generation of African entrepreneurs who are making an impact in their local communities, working to solve the most pressing problems, and building a more sustainable and inclusive economy for the future.

Every year, ten finalists will be selected to compete in the ABH grand finale pitch competition. These finalists also receive extensive exposure through the high-quality video narratives ABH produces about their stories and their ABH journeys. Throughout the process, we work with local media and influencers across the continent to secure interviews spotlighting their businesses and the impact they are having.

All finalists also join an exclusive community of like-minded entrepreneurs, business professionals, investors, and mentors. In addition, they get access to training and networking opportunities to further support them on their business journey.

Early Career Research Awards (ECRA)

Bookmark Email

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, US

These awards are intended to provide resources for junior researchers (within six years of earning a PhD) to carry out policy-related research on employment issues. The Institute encourages research proposals on all issues related to employment and public workforce policy. Research of interest may examine how policies affect overall labor market outcomes or the labor market outcomes of different groups. Junior researchers in economics, sociology, public policy, political science, and related fields may apply.

Early Career Research Award recipients are expected to write a research paper based on the funded work, submit the paper to the Institute's working paper series, and prepare a synopsis of the research for use as a policy brief and for possible publication in the Institute's newsletter, Employment Research.

Global Health Corps (GHC), INT

This program recruits talented young leaders with a wide range of skill sets and backgrounds to join and contribute to the movement for health equity.

GHC places fellows within high-impact health organizations and Ministries of Health in Malawi, Rwanda, Uganda, and Zambia to fill critical roles, from supply chain and data analysis to program implementation and policy and advocacy. Working in co-fellow pairs, fellows learn and contribute in these roles.

During their fellowship year, fellows make significant contributions to their placement organizations and the communities they serve. They also engage in robust leadership training and integrate into GHC's global network.
