Introduction:

Welcome to this month's Research Funding Bulletin for CEMS:

OGSR believes that funding is the central vein that drives productivity, influence the volume of workload and research activities. Hence the recent request for the university's subscription to Research Professional Database, in which criteria can be set for more discipline/ subject specific funding, from all over the world.

Research Africa Professional Database offers UNISA and its scholars' the following:

- The latest research funding.
- Student exchange opportunities.

Many of the funding calls will require data management, equality, and impact statements. Our team of NRF rated experts are ready to guide you through the process prior to submission.

Support to access Research Funding Database is available through the office of

- Ms Pumeza Saliwe saliwp@unisa.ac.za
- Telephone number: 012 429 4076

Looking forward to your applications!

Fox International Fellowship

Bookmark Email Actions ▼

Yale University, US

The Fox International Fellowship is a graduate student exchange program between Yale University and 21 world-renowned academic partners. The goal of the Fox International Fellowship is to enhance mutual understanding between the peoples of the United States and other countries by promoting international scholarly exchanges and collaborations among the next generation of leaders. To accomplish this goal, the program seeks to identify and nurture those students who are interested in harnessing scholarly knowledge to respond to the world's most pressing challenges. For these reasons, we especially welcome students enrolled in the social sciences and kindred disciplines in the professional schools.

The fellowship focuses on such critical fields as: international relations and global affairs, law, environmental policy, public health, social sciences, economics, political science, political theory, business and finance, management, and contemporary history.

Closing date 15 February 2024

Closing date note Deadline may vary depending on the partner university.

Center for Communal Studies, US

The Center for Communal Studies at the University of Southern Indiana annually invites applications for a Research Travel Grant to fund research at the Communal Studies Collection at USI's David L. Rice Library. The Communal Studies Collection's rich archival materials hold information on over 600 historic and contemporary communal societies, utopias and intentional communities.

Strengths of the Collection include materials on the Harmonists and Owenites who settled nearby New Harmony, Indiana, but the breadth of the Collection covers American communalism more broadly. Applicants may be graduate students or established scholars in the United States or abroad from any discipline that involves the study of communalism.

Svenska Institutet, SE

The SI Scholarship for Global Professionals aims to develop future global leaders that will contribute to the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and to sustainable development. The applicants should have a clear idea of how their education will contribute to the sustainable development of their home countries and regions.

The scholarship is intended for full-time, one- or two-year master's programme, and is funded by the Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs. The Swedish Institute open the call for applications once every year for master's studies beginning in the autumn semester. In order to have a successful application, make sure to be eligible, complete all steps of the process, and that you have the documentation required to finalise your application in time. Please read through the following pages carefully.

Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade (MFAT) - New Zealand, NZ

These enable undergraduate, postgraduate and PhD students from eligible countries across the Pacific, Asia, Africa, the Caribbean and Latin America to undertake study at a university in New Zealand, or for students from selected Pacific countries, at a Pacific university.

Scholars can study abroad in New Zealand at one of eight universities or three institutes of technology:

- Universities:
 - Auckland University of Technology
 - Lincoln University
 - Massey University
 - University of Auckland
 - University of Canterbury
 - University of Otago
 - University of Waikato
 - Victoria University of Wellington
- Institutes of technology
 - Southern Institute of Technology
 - Unitec Institute of Technology
 - Wintec - Waikato Institute of Technology

Citizens from eligible Pacific countries can also choose from two Pacific universities:

- University of South Pacific
- Fiji National University.

Closing date 29 February 2024

Closing date note The portal will open at midnight on the 1st of February 2024 and close at midday on the 29th of February 2024.

Deadline Information ---

Recurrence This call is repeated once a year.

Date added 23 January 2024

Award type Scholarships, Training or Bursaries

Award amount max ---

Award amount min ---

Amount note With a full Manaaki New Zealand Scholarship, scholars studying in New Zealand receive:

- full tuition fees.
- living allowance (a stipend) of NZ$531 per week. This will help with a scholar's basic living expenses. If you commence your study programme online in your home country, your stipend will be adjusted to reflect the difference in living costs around the world.

- an establishment allowance of NZ$3000. This is to help with set-up costs in New Zealand. For example, you can use it for accommodation expenses, text books, or other study materials.
- medical insurance when you are in New Zealand.
- tutoring costs up to the value of NZ$1000, to assist with the cost of additional tutoring while you are studying if needed.
- travel to and from your own country. This is for travel from your own country at the start of the scholarship, and for return travel at the end of your scholarship.
- travel insurance.
- travel home during your scholarship. Scholars studying over 1.6 years are entitled to travel home to visit family. We usually allow for one or two trips, depending on the length of your scholarship. However, this is subject to border settings and other restrictions.
- managed isolation and quarantine (MIQ): This is no longer required when entering New Zealand. We will provide support towards costs of MIQ upon return to your home country, if this is mandatory and your home government does not already cover this cost.
- reimbursement for the costs of COVID-19 vaccinations if required by your study country or transit country, and for the costs of any COVID-19 pre-departure tests. Please note: costs will not be reimbursed for dependent family members. Scholars will need to meet the requirements stipulated by national governments and/or airlines with regard to the type of COVID-19 vaccination and COVID-19 pre-departure test deemed acceptable. MFAT will only cover costs if a charge is incurred and a receipt is provided.
- reintegration allowance of NZ$1000. This is to help with set-up costs upon your return to your home country.
- help with research and thesis costs for many postgraduate students.

Eligibility Note Eligibility requirements

- To apply for a Manaaki New Zealand Scholarship, you must be 18 years old or older when you start your scholarship. This means if you are 17 years of age when you apply, you must have your 18th birthday before you start your scholarship in semester one. Exception for Samoa: Applicants applying for the Samoa Foundation intake can be 17 years of age when they commence their scholarship. There is no upper age limit for applicants. However, we do prefer applicants who are under 40 years of age.
- Postgraduate and mature undergraduate applicants must have relevant work experience.
- Applicants must reside in their home country for two years prior to prior to commencing their study. Applicants working for their home country on a diplomatic assignment and dependants of these diplomats travelling with their parents are exempt from this requirement.
- Successful scholarship applicants must meet both the academic entry requirements and the English language requirements determined by each education institution.
- Applicants that are within their stand down period (two years after their Manaaki scholarship completion date), are not eligible to apply for another scholarship.
 - Applicants that have had a previous Manaaki New Zealand tertiary scholarship and have been terminated on academic grounds, downgraded on academic grounds, or returned home without completing a qualification, are not eligible to apply within five years of their completion date. Previous Manaaki Scholars who have been terminated on grounds of inappropriate conduct are permanently prohibited from applying for further Manaaki New Zealand Scholarships.

- Applicants with a previous Manaaki New Zealand ELTO or Short-Term Training Scholarship and that are within their stand down period are not eligible to apply for a Manaaki New Zealand tertiary scholarship.

Citizens from eligible countries in the Pacific have two full scholarship options.
