The Unisa Library Digital Collections provide access to Unisa's unique library and notable archival materials for teaching, learning, and research for users globally.

This invaluable resource aims to:

- promote intellectual collaboration in support of teaching, learning and digital scholarship, by offering access to the digital collections.
- enrich Unisa's African digital resources and South African Cultural and Heritage content,
- support Unisa's decolonial and digital scholarship agenda

The digitisation project was initially made possible through the support of the Birch Foundation and the Thabo Mbeki Foundation.

Unisa Libraries

The Unisa Library is the largest academic Library in Africa.

Unisa Libraries provide access to an extensive collection of books, audio-visual material, walk in and digital archives, electronic databases and journals. The collections at Branch Libraries are determined by the number of students registered for a module in the area and by the physical facilities at that Library.

These collections are supplemented by online collections as well as a Postal Collection available on request to all students regardless of location in the branches.

Registered library users should carry their activated library access card when entering any Unisa library.

African Digital Library

The African Digital Library (ADL) is a collection of electronic books (eBooks) that can be accessed and used free-of-charge by any person living on the African continent. Individuals can access the library from any PC that is connected to the Internet in Africa. The objective of the ADL is to develop a digital library that is available free-of-charge, to residents and institutions of Africa, for academic and business use. To find out more and to register, visit: <http://www.africandl.org.za/>

Collections

Study Collections

Collections of recommended and additional reading available at Branch Libraries. Different loan periods may apply.

Open Shelf or Research Collection

The Open Shelf or Research Collection is available at the Pretoria Library. The term "open" refers to the fact that these books may be borrowed in person or requested electronically.

Reference Collections

The reference collection in a library is indicated by the letters REF in front of the classification number. The reference collection may consist of dictionaries, abstracts, directories, encyclopedias, indexes, statutes or law reports. These items may only be used in the Library.

Journal Collections

Print journals are available for use in the Library only.
